

LITTLE WING - OUT NOW on iTunes

The US born and London based singer / songwriter prepares for a busy summer of festivals and releases her brand new single, a country rock reworking of the classic rock track by Jimi Hendrix and produced by acclaimed producer Gig Piscetti (Goldfrapp, Lou Reed, The Killers and Mystery Jets).

The single also features Matt Becker, lead guitarist who's toured with some of the most legendary names in music such as, Laura Mvula, Elton John, Cher, ABC, Rumer. He's also composed music featured in the hit TV series NCIS, Law And Order and many many more.

The release follows the success of her previous single Come Take A Ride, which reached number 18 in the UK club charts. The second track Angelina Jolie is taken from her outstanding new album Don't Ignore Me, collaboration with producer John Ryan (Santana, Lynard Skynard) and with over 29,000 views on her Youtube videos.

Originally from New York but now a confirmed Londoner the songstress has quite a back story from her early days of studying at Harvard College and joining her first successful pop band with students from Berkley Music School, to playing US tours and followed by many TV appearances, not to mention her previous releases and celeb musician friends.

June 15th 2016 Laura will be opening up for the rock legend Steven Tyler of Aerosmith fame at the iconic Laconia Fest on the East Coast in the US, which she was personally asked to perform at.

Music Week - "Singer-songwriter Laura Comfort's leanings into the folk-pop world show she is a real talent at this".
